

The George Grauel Faculty Fellowships
2006-2007 Awardees

- ✦ Dr. Carl D. Anthony, Biology
Training on the statistical analysis of the evolution of shape; collect data on the effect of habitat disturbance on the evolution of shape change in a forest floor predator
- ✦ Dr. Denise Ben-Porath, Psychology
Research on response to treatment in eating disordered individuals with and without borderline personality disorder
- ✦ Dr. A. Roy Day, Physics
Develop a method of analyzing the properties of composite materials with the goal of furthering understanding of the relation between structure and properties
- ✦ Dr. Valerie R. Flechtner, Biology
Evaluate flora from the Great Basin and central Desert of Utah
- ✦ Dr. Katherine M. Gatto, Classical & Modern Languages & Cultures
Films of the Argentine director, Maria Luisa Bemberg
- ✦ Dr. Steven Hayward, English
"Neighbors"
- ✦ Dr. K. Julia Karolle, Classical & Modern Languages & Cultures
The German-language detective novel of the early 20th century
- ✦ Dr. Peter J. Kvidera, English
"U.S. Immigrant Writing and Regional Transformations"
- ✦ Dr. Maria N. Marsilli, History
Colonial religious life of natives in the Southern region of the Inca Empire
- ✦ Dr. Daniel W. Palmer, Mathematics & Computer Science
Write a new software system to create small programs that interact according to a user-specified set of rules to provide feedback and insight on how swarms work
- ✦ Dr. Diana E. Taylor, Philosophy
French philosopher Michel Foucault's controversial claim for the existence of a second philosophical tradition
- ✦ Dr. Charles A. Watts, Management, Marketing & Logistics
Experimental analysis comparing the traditional approach of managing inventory in a supply chain versus the theory of constraints (TOC) approach